Arrived
At Madeira, the William, Neale, from Cork.
In our last read the Race-horse Oram, from London, arrived at Madeira, instead of Dublin.

Thursday Se'nnight was committed to Bedford Gaol one Martin, who kept the Spotted Dog against the Bull Inn in Dunstable, for aiding and assisting in a barbarous Murder on one Norris, a Butcher of the same Place; and also for wounding in a most dangerous Manner one Radford, a Sadler, and another Person, who assisted the said Norris, and attempted to seize the Son-in-law of the said Martin, who had been a Deforter, and is supposed to be concern'd in divers Robberies with a Gang who lately infested that and the adjacent Roads, two of whom, viz. William Blowes and James Ward, were executed at the last Assizes at Bedford.

We hear from Guilford, that a melancholy Accident happen'd laſt Tueſday Se'nnight at a Farm called Shuland in the Pariſh of Puttenham about five Miles from thence, which was as follows: The Farmer, his Son a Youth about 17, and a Servant, were going with a Waggon-load of Hurdles from one Field to another, the Waggon overturn'd, and the young Man lay under it till they could take the Horſes off and faſten them to the Side of the Waggon to draw it up, when they found both the young Man's Legs broke, and his Body very much bruifed; but by the immediate Aſſiſtance of an eminent Surgeon in that Neighbourhood, there is great Hope of his Recovery.

Yesterday a Dispensation pass'd the Great Seal, to enable the Rev. Herbert Oakeley, Clerk, M.A. Chaplain to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, to hold the Vicarage of Lodbury North, in the County of Salop and Diocese of Hereford, together with the Rectory of Lydham in the same County and Diocese aforesaid.

They write from Cambridge, that on Monday last died of the Gout in his Stomach the Rev. Mr. Boot-house, Fellow of Jesus Colledge, and one of the Taxers of that University.

The Wind having prov'd very fair, 'tis thought his Majesty landed in Holland last Night.

Sarum, May 2, 1741.

BY Mr. Fancourt's Plan for establishing a circulating Library in Sarum, every Half Guinea entitles the Subscriber either to an Article of Books of greater Value, or to a Year's Reading of the future Library of equal Value.

Yesterday being the First of May, all Things were made ready for dividing the present Library in the Presence of several Gentlemen who attended for that Purpose. The Tickets were lock'd up, and the Keys committed to their Custody.— Monday the 4th instant, the Tickets will begin to be drawn, and so continue every other Day (viz. every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday) till the Whole is finished. The Hours will be from ten to twelve in the Morning, and from three to six in the Afternoon. During the whole time of Drawing such Tickets as are undispos'd of and undrawn, will be sold to any who please to buy; and an exact Account of Undrawn Tickets will be kept for that End.— The new Library will be open'd between Midsummer and Michaelmas next.

The Opinion of the Learned in the Law about the Manner of Dividing the present Library ; viz.

‘ I am of Opinion, that if the Subscribers should ‘ divide these Articles among themselves by Lots, it ‘ will not be contrary to the Intent and Meaning of ‘ those Acts, nor can be deemed to fall within any of
‘ the Inconveniences, or ill Practices, intended to be ‘ prevented thereby.’

April 19. 1740. Thomas Owen.
 ' I am of Opinion, that the Method above propoed
 ' for the Sale and Division of the Library is fair and
 ' just; neither is it contrary to the Intent of any of the ' Acts made to prohibit Lotteries.'

July 5, 1740. Edm. Pitman.
 Upon reading Mr. Fancourt's Advertisement for erecting a new Publick Library at Salisbury by Subscriptions, I conceive that nothing therein contained,
 can be deemed illegal, or a prohibited Lottery.

By Mr. OLDYS.
Also his TRIAL, with some Additions; together with a List of Authors cited by him, and a new and more copious Index to the whole Work.
Sir WALTER RALEGH's History of the World is a Work of so vast a Compass, such endless Variety, that no Genius, but one adventurous as his own, durst have undertaken that great Design. I do not apprehend any great Difficulty in collecting and common-placing an Universal History from the whole Body of Historians; that is nothing but mechanic Labour. But to digest the several Authors in his Mind, to take in all their Majesty, Strength, and Beauty, to raise the Spirit of meagre Historians, and to equal all the Excellencies of the best, is Sir Walter's peculiar Praise. His Style is the most perfect, the happiest, and most beautiful of the Age he wrote in, majestic, clear and manly; and he appears every-where so superior, rather than unequal to his Subject, that the Spirit of Rome and Athens seems to be breathed into his Work.

THE Queen having receiv'd from the Count d'Ostern her Plenipotentiary at London, a Copy of the Speech which the King of Great Britain was to make to his Parliament on the 8th of April, O. S. relating to her Interests, her Majesty has express'd her Sense of his Britannick Majesty's

May 9. N. S. M. de Sydow, a Captain in the 10th Regiment, arriv'd here two Days ago, by 10 Post-boys blowing their Horns, and advice from the King's Army in Silesia, that the Castle of Brieg surrender'd to his Majesty's troops on the 4th instant by a Capitulation; the Commander is oblig'd not to serve again, any more, nor the Garrison for two Years to come. We are assur'd that the Loss sustain'd by our Army in this Siege is very inconsiderable. The Marquis de Valeri, accompanied by his Brother, by the Minister the Marquis de Valeri, and by several officers, arriv'd the 26th ult. in the King's Majesty sent 120 Horse to meet him as a mark of esteem. On the 28th the Marshal had an Audience of the King, to whom he declar'd the Sentiments enter'd into the King his Master for the Advantage and safety of the Germanick Body, his sincere Desire the most entire Union prevail among its Members, his Wishes that the States of the Empire should agree in the Choice of their Head, and that it will be to him to give Proofs of his Loyalty for the Royal Family of Prussia: To which the King return'd an Answer which shew'd the confidence that he places in his Most Christian Majesty's good Disposition.

write from Silesia, that since the Arrival of the Duke of Holstein, the King's Army forms a Body near Brieg. The third Day after the Molwitz the King sent several hundred of the Prisoners to the Commandant of Brieg, that he might take care of 'em; for which the Commandant promis'd that he would not detain them in any Service during the Siege. The King confirm'd all the Advantages which the Emperor's Father granted to the Protestants of the Empire, and that he retir'd into his Dominions, and having granted still greater to such as shall retire to the Duchy of Deuxponts arriv'd here last night, and will be sent forthwith to Prussia; and we are assur'd that a greater Number is shortly expected.

May 11. N. S. The Count de Montijo is arriv'd here, and from thence we hear he is to go to the King of Prussia, and afterwards to Dresden and Hanover. Letters from Vienna and Dresden say, that the Queen of Hungary has caus'd such advantages to be made to the King of Poland as Electors, that 'twas believ'd the Dispute concerning Electoral Suffrage for Bohemia could not fail of being regulated. The Election of a new Emperor propos'd by the Electors of Saxony and Brandenburg to be put off till Winter; but we hear that of Great Britain, and some other Electors, oppos'd insist on a speedy Choice.

April 29. N. S. The Baron de Gyllenhielm, M. d'Arckenholz, having form'd a Design to break out of the Castle by the Assistance of Persons who they are remov'd to the publick Prisons, and they arriv'd. Yesterday the King receiv'd the presents of the Court on his Birth day, he being arriv'd on the 66th Year of his Age.

Extra of a Letter from Exon, dated May 6, 1741.

That this City is in a good State of Health, appears from the following Certificate of our Physicians.

Whereas we are informed that many have been deterr'd from coming into this City, and prosecuting their necessary Business, from a Belief of a Pettilential Fever everywhere raging here; being willing to satisfy the Publick, we do certify, that there has been no other Fever here (except in the Prison) but what has been common to several other Cities and Towns in the Kingdom; and which has been here almost wholly confined to the poorer Sort of People, and some that attended the Prisoners; and at this Time the City is generally in a good State of Health.
